Custom HTML Forms Feature (advanced)

If you know HTML and simply want to use this plugin to process form requests, this feature is for you. The following HTML is a the framework to which you must adhere. In order for your form to work you MUST do the following:

- Keep the form action/method the same (yes the action is supposed to be empty).
- Include all the hidden fields shown below.
- Provide a hidden field with a success message or thank you page (both hidden fields are included below, you must choose one or the other and fill in the value part of the input field appropriately).

Just to be clear, you don't edit the code in the Custom HTML Forms feature within the admin panel. Instead, you copy the code in to the page, post, or theme file you want to display a form, then edit the code to look how you want following the guidelines provided above.
